Steve, I think this needs Jim Ward's buy-in...at this level, we're getting in to some interesting internal equity issues, which I want Jim to be aware of before I decide. Have you spoken with him? If he needs information, Michelle, can you provide Jim with the LEC positions that are around the same comp level?

Sorry to drag this out, but I don't want to back in to something without everyone knowing what's going on.

Jan

We have heard back from [REDACTED] he has come back with [REDACTED] base, though I think if we went to [REDACTED] [REDACTED] signon we could get him, this is out of or salary range but this position has proven very difficult to fill as it requires a similar technical expertise to that of a lead with a lot of travel and strong communication skills. [REDACTED] has been the only candidate we have seen (out of 100 reviewed and contacted and 10 in studio interviews) that has met all of our criteria. He is currently looking at another opportunity at [REDACTED] that would pay [REDACTED] [REDACTED] bonus and stock. [REDACTED] the hiring manager is in support of [REDACTED]. Please let me know your thoughts.

Thanks,
Steve

Since we don't have a comp committee this week, I wanted to get this to you both for response asap. I am ok with the Base and sign on, but would limit the relo to Tier 3 (in fact, I don't even know if we have a Tier 4!) Michelle, your thoughts and comps? Steve?

We want to go to offer on an external TD role which is seen as a critical position to fill with the departure of [REDACTED]. Our hiring range for the role is [REDACTED] with a salary range of [REDACTED] what we want to offer, from the bottom of the chain are:

We want to make an offer to [REDACTED] for External TD as soon as possible. As you know, [REDACTED] is the first candidate we have met who meets all of the most important criteria for the role. He is far and away the top candidate we have met for the position.

He currently works for [REDACTED] with a comp package of [REDACTED] UK pounds [REDACTED], plus stock options & annual bonus plan.

We want to begin the offer process with [REDACTED] at the following level:

Base Salary [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] sign on bonus

Plus relocation package at Tier 3 or Tier 4 level [REDACTED] plus pack and ship) if possible (international relo for family of 4).

It is my opinion that this comp is in line with current market rate. We have talked with multiple candidates in the industry, their base compensation has ranged from [REDACTED] with stock & bonus plans up to [REDACTED] annually. He is also considering a position with [REDACTED] so it is in our best interests to be as competitive as possible.

Please advise if we can move forward with this offer.

Thanks

Steve

Let's move forward with an offer to [REDACTED]. As we discussed, I'm fine with the [REDACTED] but I don't think we should go any higher, as it is much higher than our current comp rate for this role. You may want to check with BZ or Blaire to make sure it is within what the comp committee set as the upper range for this role. Let me know what you find out.

Thanks,
Mark

I'll leave it to [REDACTED] to settle on the comp number.

We have found the External TD that we have been after. His comp is above what we currently have allocated, but as recruiting has mentioned in the past we have been below market value for this role. Please advise on next steps- We may have some play with the numbers but I am figuring he is at [REDACTED] base.
